CARDOZO TRIAL SOON

School Case Will Be Called Saturday, January 19.

PRINCIPAL MAY ASK DELAY

Attorneys Busy in Court and May Not Be Ready to Proceed—Charges Practically Same as Original Ones, and Will Be Completed To-day by the Counsel for the Board.

Saturday, January 19, 1907, has been set as the date for the trial of Francis L. Cardozo, principal of the Thirteenth division, public schools, on charges preferred against him by Supt. Chancellor.

This date is not arbitrary, as a continuance may be granted upon request of Cardozo's counsel on the plea that they cannot appear, or have not had time to prepare his defense. The Board of Education will meet at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on that date and will either proceed with the trial or grant the continuance if, in its opinion, it is justified.

Although the board members present yesterday had a preliminary conference with Stuart McNamara, attorney for the board, before the meeting, considerable difference of opinion arose as to the date to be set.

Cardozo Is Represented.
James A. Cobb, representing Cardozo, was present, an interested listener of Admiral Baird's opening remarks, which were as follows:

"The purpose of this special meeting of the board of education is to consider the charges and specifications which have been prepared in the case of F. L. Cardozo, and to set a date for the trial."

"Henry E. Davis has informed me that he will act alone as counsel for the accused, so we will not be obliged to listen to the words of any other person on that side."

"While a majority of the members may pass upon this immediate question, it is, in my opinion, necessary for the entire membership of the board to be present at the trial. To this end, I desire to know what date will be agreeable to the entire membership of the board, the accused, and the counsel."

McNamara Advises Board.
Mr. McNamara was then called upon by Admiral Baird to advise the board. He explained how the charges should be filed and copies made by the secretary. That they should be sent to Cardozo, personally, informing him of the date, &c. He pointed out that under the law Cardozo had the right of counsel and one friend. That he could have who, or as many to represent him as he so desired, besides the one friend. For instance, if Mr. Davis could not appear, some one else would have the right to take his place as counsel. Mr. McNamara also called attention to the matter of a continuance if the date should not be satisfactory. He said that such a course was common practice in the courts and usually prevailed when it was not abused.

Date Set for January 19.
As soon as Mr. McNamara had concluded Capt. Oyster moved "that we fix a date and give five days time." This was seconded by Mrs. Terrell.

After considerable discussion, in which Mr. Cobb participated, Saturday, January 19 was set as the date of the trial. During the general discussion there were several suggestions. In one of them Capt. Oyster cautioned Mr. Cobb against making threats, when he said that he did not want to take the matter to court again.

The charges against Cardozo, although newly prepared, are understood to be practically the same as the original charges upon which he was dismissed. They are still in the hands of Mr. McNamara, who desired to make a few additions and changes and will not be turned over to Secretary Connor until this morning.

CHANGE IN POLICE BOARD.

Maj. Sylvester Suggests Appointment of Lieut. Flavey.

Commissioner West yesterday approved the recommendation of Maj. Sylvester that a new trial board consisting of Inspector J. A. Swindell, Capt. H. B. Elliott, and Lieut. W. F. Flavey be appointed. It was decided also that in all cases where the accused is represented by counsel that an assistant to the corporation counsel shall be present to represent the District.

In response to a request from Commissioner West, Maj. Sylvester recently submitted a statement showing that there were forty-three cases pending before the trial board. This was accounted for by the delay in furnishing stenographer's reports of the proceedings. Commissioner West suggested that this be dispensed with in minor cases. In cases of importance, where counsel is present, the board will consist of the three officials named. Minor cases will be disposed of by Inspector Swindell and Capt. Elliott. The former board consisted of Inspector Swindell, Capt. Elliott, and Assistant Corporation Counsel J. E. Smith.

CAN FURNISH 21 STREAMS.

Large Fire Cisterns Increase the Efficiency of Department.

Chief W. T. Belt, of the fire department, yesterday reported to the Commissioners that owing to the increase of the size of the four openings to the two cisterns at the intersection of Seventh and C streets and Pennsylvania and Louisiana avenues and Tenth and D streets northwest, it is now possible to attach from four to six of the largest engines and obtain therefrom twenty-one effective streams of water.

Chief Belt has recommended that cisterns of a similar character be installed at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, Thirteenth and F streets, Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, Fourteenth and G streets, Ninth and F streets, and Seventh and E streets northwest.

Engineers Plan for Meeting.

The Washington Society of Engineers will hold a meeting at the Hubbard Memorial Hall on January 15, when the president of the organization will speak on "The Future of the Society." It is also proposed to hold a smoker and club night meeting on January 22, when the members will have an opportunity to meet some of the best known engineers in this country. Several other meetings of the society will be held in the near future, the announcements for which will be made later.

WAGE WAR ON LIQUOR TRADE.

W. C. T. U. Members Discuss Traffic at Quarterly Convention.

The main feature of the quarterly convention of the W. C. T. U., held at the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church yesterday, was the manner in which members of the organization advocated the bill which is now in the committee rooms of Congress, and which provides for the absolute prohibition of the selling of liquor in the District. Mrs. Clifton Smith, the District president, in discussing the matter just before the adjournment, said that if the bill could once be passed there would be no difficulty in having the law afterward enforced.

"At present," she said, "the liquor laws are so lax that it is impossible to suppress even the unlicensed barrooms in the city. With the passage of this act, and we have reason to believe that it will be passed, there will be no difficulty in stopping all liquor traffic in the District."

Representative Amos R. Webster, of Ohio, delivered an address at the morning session of the society, in which he stated that he was doing all in his power to crush the saloons. "I have been fighting the American saloon for twenty-five years," he said, "and will continue to fight them as long as I live."

The reports of the society were read and approved, and coming events were discussed. Addresses were made by various members of the society, the general subject being temperance.

EDWARD JORDAN BURIED.

Interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery, and the service at the grave was in charge of the Elks. Many floral tributes were received from the various organizations attending the funeral.

In a sermon after the mass, Dr. Stafford paid high tribute to the life of Mr. Jordan, speaking of him as charitable, thoughtful, wise, and prudent.

The honorary pallbearers were: T. V. Powderly, William Whelan, Joseph Ralph, James McKinney, P. J. Ryan, and Thomas Rooney. The active pallbearers: Jacob Brill, of Alexandria Lodge, B. P. O. Elks; H. ## FOR COMMERCIAL SECRETARY

Subcommittee of Board of Trade Presents Proposition Monday.

Matter Will Be Outlined and Fully Discussed at General Meeting of the Organization by Speakers.

The subcommittee of the Board of Trade committee on commerce and manufactures, having charge of the plan to further the business interests of the city by the employment of a commercial secretary for the Board of Trade, met yesterday afternoon and talked over arrangements for presenting the subject at the general meeting of the board next Monday night.

The members of the subcommittee, realizing that the plan involves an important departure from the present activities of the Board of Trade, and feeling the importance of adopting this means to carry out one of the principal recommendations made in the last annual report of the committee, expressed their views at some length along the line that careful preparation should be made by the committee for presenting the matter to the board at the general meeting. First, it was determined that the subject should be concisely stated and all points made clear, alike as to the intentions of the committee and its effect upon the commerce of the city.

With this end in view, a speaker was selected to present the subject on Monday night in a carefully prepared address. It was further arranged that other speakers should participate in the discussion of the subject, to make as strong an impression as possible in the hope that a majority of the members of the Board of Trade would be brought to the committee's way of thinking.

The sense of the meeting was that the committee should do all in its power to make the subject attractive and the plan convincing to their fellow-members of the Board of Trade, in the hope that it might be adopted and an effective impulse given to the movement for a "Greater Washington" in the commercial sense. The plans of the committee are fully set forth in the report made by the committee on manufactures at the annual meeting of the board in December.
